GENERAL STATEMENT

HISTORY. The law school, which developed into the School of Law of the University, was founded in 1843 at Chapel Hill as a private school by William H. Battle, then a judge of the Superior Court, later a justice of the Supreme Court of the State. In 1845 Judge Battle was made Professor of Law in the University, and it was provided that the degree of Bachelor of Laws should be conferred on those completing the prescribed two-year course. From the records of the University, however, it seems that few degrees were actually conferred. For a long time the school maintained a certain independence of the University. The professor of law received no salary, though he enjoyed the fees from his classes. The students were not entirely subject to the discipline of the University.

This was the position of the school from its formation until 1899, a period which covered the professorship of Judge Battle who retired in 1879; two years when the law classes were conducted by Kemp P. Battle, then President of the University; and the professorship of John Manning, elected 1881, died 1899. In 1899 the school was completely incorporated into the University, with the late James C. MacRae, previously a justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina, as the first Dean of the School of Law.

The School of Law having complied in full with the requirements set up by the American Bar Association has been classed as an "approved law school."

The School of Law is a member of the Association of American Law Schools, an association composed of the leading law schools in the United States.

A carefully compiled list of approved law schools, whose credits are acceptable as evidence of due preparation for the New York Bar Examinations, is published by the University of the State of New York. The School of Law is accredited in this list for the full three years' work.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

Regular Students

The matter of admission to the School of Law, as to all the other schools and colleges of the University, is arranged through the Dean of Admissions of the University.

The Dean of Admissions passes upon all applications for admission, and all inquiries as to eligibility to enter should be addressed to him. Those who intend to enter must furnish to him (a) a certificate of successful vaccination against smallpox, and (b) a certificate showing the completion of a four years' high school course of fifteen units and the completion of not less than three years of college work, which must be approved as satisfactory. These certificates should be sent by mail to the officer named above at least two weeks before registration day, if possible.

The academic requirements for admission to the School of Law may be satisfied by:

(1) An academic degree from the University of North Carolina or any other standard college or university approved by the Dean of Admissions.

(2) Three years of academic work prescribed in the "Combined Course in Arts and Law" or in "Commerce and Law" as described below.

(3) The first three years complete of the regular work prescribed for a degree (a) in the College of Arts and Sciences, or the School of Commerce, or (b) in a similar curriculum in some other standard college or university.

*All regular applicants for admission to the School of Law must have received a grade of C or better in at least fifty per cent of their undergraduate courses.

Special Students

A limited number of special students, not eligible for a degree, may be admitted each year, provided the aggregate total does not exceed ten per cent of the average number of beginning regular students admitted during the two preceding years. They must be at least twenty-three years of age and must furnish evidence to satisfy the law faculty that their business experience has equipped them to engage successfully in the study of law in spite of their lack of a college education. Applications for admission to the summer school as special students will be acted upon on May 15; for admission to the regular session, on September 1, each year. All special students will be admitted for a maximum period of one year or for shorter periods in unusual cases. Their readmission for each academic year thereafter will be determined on the basis of their records.

Admission to Advanced Standing

A student from another school of law, in which the requirements for admission are at least as high as in this school, may be admitted to advanced standing for the degree of LL.B. As a rule no more than one year's work will be so credited, but with the consent of the faculty of this school two years' work may be credited in exceptional cases, provided the last year of work for the degree in law is done in residence. A student seeking admission to advanced standing must present satisfactory evidence that the work taken in another school is substantially equivalent to that given in the corresponding year here, both in the character of the work covered and in the amount of time devoted to each subject.

No student will be admitted who is ineligible to return to the institution last attended.

Times for Entering the School

Beginning students may enter in the Summer School or at the opening of the first semester in September; they may not enter at the opening of the second semester.

* In records made at institutions using percentage grades, this is interpreted to mean grades at least ten points above the passing grade.

The fees for the Summer School of Law for 1937 are: $40.00 each term or $75.00 for both terms. These fees are subject to change.

Books

Books for law students, bought new, will average about $50.00 a year. A saving below this figure can be made by taking advantage of the secondhand market.

Dormitory

Rooms may be rented in Carr Building, reserved exclusively for law students, at $90.00 for each occupant for the regular session for a double room; or at $76.50 for each occupant for a suite of three rooms. Carr Building is also available to students registering in the Summer School of Law. Room rent for each occupant of a double room is $15.00 for each summer term of five and one-half weeks.

THE SUMMER SCHOOL

To students beginning the study of law the Summer School of Law offers special opportunities: The small classes enable every student to participate in the discussion and to receive individual attention impossible in the larger classes of the regular year. Concentration is facilitated by the fact that the student is enrolled in only two courses at a time, as compared with five in the regular year, and by the further fact that there are relatively few extra-curricular interferences. Students of average capacity or better who begin the study of law in the summer find that the lead thus obtained helps materially throughout their experience in the study of law. Attendance upon three summer sessions will shorten the period of study required for the degree to two and one-quarter calendar years.

In addition to enriching the program of study through courses not usually available in the regular year, and to shortening the period of study required for the degree, the Summer School of Law offers advanced students an opportunity to work in close association with a number of distinguished teachers of law from other universities.

The summer session is divided into two terms of five and one-half weeks each. Separate credit may usually be obtained for the work of each term. Attendance throughout the entire summer session enables the successful student to obtain credit equivalent to one-third of a regular year's work.

The program for the 1937 summer session follows:

THE LAW BUILDING

The School of Law occupies Manning Hall, named for John Manning, from 1881 to 1899 a distinguished professor in the School. The building was erected in 1923 and, besides being modern and commodious, is particularly notable for beauty of design.

THE LAW LIBRARY

The library has 38,700 well-selected volumes on its shelves. These include the reports of the courts of last resort of all the states, either in official volumes or the National Reporter System, and also the United States Supreme Court Reports, The Federal Reporter, The New York Supplement, Illinois Appellate Reports, The English Reports Reprint, The Law Reports (English), The Law Journal Reports, The Law Times Reports, The Times Law Reports, The Dominion Law Reports, the codified laws of each state in the union, the federal and English statutes, and a comprehensive selection of digests, encyclopedias, annotated reports, textbooks, and law journals. It contains, among other material of historical legal interest, the law libraries of Chief Justice Richmond M. Pearson, Chief Justice William A. Hoke, Judge Charles M. Cooke, Judge Charles Thomas, Judge George T. Willis, William Dossey Pruden, and James Norfleet Pruden. The law library was substantially augmented in 1928 by a gift of $10,000 from a former student of the school. This is called the Lucius Polk McGehee Memorial Fund, and was expended for the purchase of books for the law library.

THE NORTH CAROLINA LAW REVIEW

The North Carolina Law Review, issued quarterly, is published by the School. It is devoted to the discussion of general and local legal problems and new cases, especially those of interest to North Carolina lawyers. The notes on recent cases are prepared by the student editors, in consultation with faculty advisers. Selection of the student editors is made by the faculty on the basis of scholarship, and membership on the editorial board is the highest scholastic honor attainable by a law student before the graduating year.

The Hill Law Review Prize, established by George Watts Hill, Esq., of the Durham Bar, is an award of fifty dollars to the student editor who makes the best total contribution to the Law Review during the year. It was won in 1936 by Staton Pender Williams, in 1937 by James M. Verner.

FACULTY RESEARCH ASSISTANTS

The faculty selects annually four assistants from the student body who conduct special research under the direction of the faculty. These assistants are chosen for outstanding proficiency demonstrated in their work as students in the School of Law.

The following students have served as research assistants during the year 1936-1937: S. J. Stern, S. P. Williams, J. W. Dorsey, and J. W. Copeland; in 1937 they will be W. C. Holt, J. C. Franklin, and J. T. Schiller.

THE ORDER OF THE COIF

In thirty of the leading schools of law in this country, conforming to very high standards, chapters of the honorary society of the Order of the Coif have been established. Membership is awarded each year to those students of the senior class who throughout their law school careers have attained a standing among the highest ten per cent of their class. In 1936 the following were elected: W. R. Booth, D. W. Markham, and F. M. Parker; in 1937 they were as follows: Sydney J. Stern, and James A. Wellins.

DEGREES

The Degree of LL.B.

The degree of Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.) is conferred upon a regular student who has studied law for a period of at least three academic years, and has passed satisfactorily the examinations on all required subjects and enough elective subjects to make up an aggregate of seventy-eight semester hours. Two regular sessions and three full summer sessions are regarded as a compliance with the residence requirement. No degree can be conferred unless the last year of work has been done in residence at this University.

The Degrees of A.B. and LL.B.

The University offers a combined curriculum in the College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Law by completing which students may receive the two degrees of A.B. and LL.B. in six years instead of the seven years required for the two degrees in the regular curricula.

Upon the completion, before matriculation in the School of Law, of the courses in the General College and in the College of Arts and Sciences outlined below with grades of C or better in at least 50 per cent of the work, and the completion of the first year of Law to the satisfaction of the School of Law, a student may receive the degree of A.B., and, upon the satisfactory completion of the third year of Law, the degree of LL.B.

The Degrees of S.B. in Commerce and LL.B.

The University offers a combined curriculum which leads to the degree of S.B. in Commerce at the end of four years and LL.B. at the end of six years.

The first three years of this combined curriculum are in the General College and the School of Commerce and are devoted to the subjects outlined below. Please note that the academic work must be of grade C or better in at least one-half the amount required and must have been completed before the student enters the School of Law. The last three years are in the School of Law and are devoted to the courses prescribed for the LL.B. degree.

The degree of S.B. in Commerce, on this basis, is conferred at the end of the fourth year (first year in Law) provided the student has passed all the work of the first year of Law to the satisfaction of the School of Law.

* Latin 11-12-13 or Greek 11-12-13 may be substituted for Mathematics 1-2-3 provided German or French or Spanish or the other classical language has been chosen as the student's regular foreign language.

† If the student's preparation is not sufficient for the intermediate work, he will take courses 1-2-3, six hours a week, and receive credit for 11-12-13.

 Latin 11-12-13, 21, 24-25 are to be taken by students who have presented two units for entrance. If he presents more than two units, he begins his work with the course for which he is prepared, taking elective work to make up that omitted.

§ The School of Law recommends that the optional course chosen be Advanced Composition, Eng. 52.

‡ The School of Law recommends that the courses in history and political science be courses in English and American history or political science.

The Degree of J.D.

The degree of Doctor of Law (Juris Doctor—J.D.) will be conferred upon students who comply with all the following conditions:

1. Complete the work requisite for the A.B. degree or its equivalent before entrance upon the work of the School of Law.
2. Study law for a period of at least three academic years.
3. Obtain an average grade of B on enough subjects to complete the requirements for the LL.B. degree.
4. Prepare and have accepted for publication in The Law Review an article of at least ten pages, or case notes which in the aggregate shall be at least eight pages in length.
5. No degree can be conferred unless the last year of work has been done in residence at this University.

The Degree With Honors

The degree with honors will be conferred, upon recommendation of the faculty, upon students selected from the highest one-tenth of the graduating class. In 1936 the recipient of this award was Frank Marion Parker.

SCHOLASTIC REGULATIONS

Mid-semester quizzes will be held in each first-year course in November and in April. At the end of the first semester, examinations will be given in all courses running through the year. Final examinations are held at the end of the first semester in all subjects then completed, and at the close of the year in all other subjects.

* The total requirement in modern languages is two years' work of collegiate grade based upon 2 units completed in high school or the equivalent in courses taken here.

 To be selected from the list given under the second year of the curriculum for A.B.-LL.B. above.

The grading of students will be indicated by the letters A (80 and above), B (75-79), C (67-74), D (60-66), F (below 60), representing respectively excellent, good, satisfactory, poor, and failed. Any student may take a second time the final examination in any course for the purpose of raising his grade, when that examination is later regularly given. Not more than one such re-examination shall be permitted in any course, and the grade on the second examination shall be final, even though lower than that received on the original one. If the re-examination in a first year course results in failure, the student will be required to repeat the course for credit.

Beginning with the class entering in the fall of 1936, students in the second and third year courses will be given grades of "Passed" or "Failed." The numerical course grades, however, will be recorded in the office. At the end of the year each student will be given his composite weighted numerical average. At the end of the first semester those students whose averages are approaching the danger point will be called in by the Dean for consultation. First year students, however, will continue as at present to receive numerical grades.

Beginning with the class entering in the fall of 1936, each student will be required, in order to remain in the School, to attain a composite weighted average of 62 on the first year's work; a cumulative composite weighted average of 65 on the first and second year's work; and a cumulative composite weighted average of 65 on the first, second and third year's work. In order to be eligible to receive a degree in law each student will be required to attain a cumulative composite weighted average for the entire three year's work of 67.

The faculty may drop from the School at any time any student who, in their judgment, is not making sufficient progress to warrant his continuing in the School. Any instructor, with the concurrence of the Dean, may drop a student from a course at any time, for unsatisfactory work, poor attendance, or other good cause.

Hereafter no student excluded from the School of Law for deficiencies of scholarship may be readmitted except by taking, with the approval of the Dean, re-examinations in those courses where he has done his poorest work, and by attaining such grades thereon as will raise his cumulative composite average to the required level. No special examinations will be given. The student will be required to take the examinations when they are later regularly held in the respective courses. The grade attained on the re-examination shall be final, even though lower than that received on the original examination.

NUMBER OF HOURS OF WORK REQUIRED AND PERMITTED

The normal amount of work is thirteen class hours a week. The absolute maximum is fifteen. Students taking courses in other departments of the University, or who are carrying burdensome responsibilities, or who are deficient in their work, will be required to register for less than the normal work in the School of Law.

No student taking fewer than ten hours will be considered as complying with the residence requirements for University degrees or for the State Bar Examination. Special regulations are applicable to the Summer Session.

DIVISION OF ACADEMIC YEAR: DATES

Work in the School is divided into two semesters instead of into three quarters. The first semester begins at the same time as the fall quarter of the College of Arts and Sciences, and ends on the last Saturday in January. The second semester begins on Monday after the last Saturday in January and ends at the same time as the third quarter of the College of Arts and Sciences. The first day of each semester is Registration Day. The fee for late registration in either semester is $5.00.

STUDENTS FROM OTHER STATES

While greater emphasis is placed upon decisions and statutes of North Carolina than upon those of the other states, the legal doctrines are studied as part of the Anglo-American common law system and the case-books used are selections of cases taken from the American and English jurisdictions. Students from other states are encouraged to investigate the decisions and statutes of their own states in regard to the questions discussed, and the library of the School provides the materials necessary for such investigation. The curriculum as a whole is designed to prepare the student in the fundamentals of the common law in such a manner as to fit him for practice in any state.

SUBJECTS OF INSTRUCTION

All subjects in the first year are prescribed. Those in the second and third years are elective, but second-year students may not elect third-year subjects except by permission of the Dean.
